few days ago the finishing department resumed with non-union men.

Tonight the strikers held a meeting and resolved to stand firm. After the adjournment about fifty colored and white men started for the mill to drive the non-union men out. With curses and yells the mobtore down the fence and made a rush for the finishing department. About a dozen men were at work. The mob carried revolvers, clubs and stones. The rioters fired several volleys, and at the first one a workman, whose name is not known, fell-to the floor, shot through the back. He will probably die. The workmen were then surrounded, and, being outnumbered four to one, fled from the mill, protecting themselves with tools and pieces of iron. They were driven some distance, and then escaped. Several were injured, but how seriously is not known. After their flight the mob quickly dispersed. The plant the men have protection. The leaders of the mob are known. The cases were taken to the graud jury, and ten minutes later true bills were found against the entire party.

MANSFIELD, Pa., Jan. 30.—The works of Sone, Beadling, the Pittsburg Fuel company, Wick, Powers and Moore resumed operations today, and no attempt was made by the strikers to interfere with the workmen. The only place where trouble is expected now is at the Morgan mines of Greene & Steen, three miles from Bridgeville. Ninety men will ingotomorrow, and the foreigners threaten to stop them. The men are to be guarded. Guards will be stationed about the works to repel any attack if made. Twenty-five deputies were withdrawn from Mansfield this evening.

IN OLDEN TIMES

People overlooked the importance of per anently beneficial effects and were satis-

Judge Jenkins says, after detailing the history of the receivership, that the qualication or disqualification of the present receivers, and the manner in which they have discharged their trust, and the pro-priety of continuing them, will be considered when the matter is properly before the court. Further reference to this, he says, would be premature. He says that the receivers have thus far not falled in the receivers have thus far not falled in their duty to the court and to the public, when they had lawful custody of the bonds and stocks, seals of the company, etc., and gave the officers of the company all reasonable access to the same. The court justifies the resignation of Secretary Earl, who had challenged the integrity of the receivers while holding a confidential position with the receivers. In regard to the custody of the books and papers, Judge Jenkins says that he conceives it his duty to the private interest and public welfare to keep them in the custody of the court until all parties interested, in a spirit of comity and equity. to direct the receivers to order the pay-ment of compensation for the services of a secretary, treasurer, auditor, counsel.

A BUCKEYE GATHERING. CHICAGO, Jan. 30.-The sons and daught ers of Ohio feasted, danced and applauded in honor of two of the state's illustrious representatives at the Grand Pacific hotel tonight. The occasion was the fourth annual banquet of the Ohio society of Chicago, and, with Governor McKinley and Congressman Frank Hurd as the guests of honor, the affair was a brilliant one. The society is composed of prominent Chicagoians who own the Buckeye state as their birthplace, and is one of the best known societies of the city. Sr. Patt., Jan. 30,-When Archbishop Ireland was shown the dispatch from St Louis, stating that he would succeed Monsignor Satolli as papal delegate to this country, he was at first inclined to consider it as too improbable to deserve serious consideration. But being urged by the Associated Press that the reneral public would be interested in a definite statement on the subject, he said:

"When Monsignor Satolii shail be recalled, he will have a successor, and that successor will come from Rome. It is decidedly the policy of the pope that no bishop occupying any see in the United States be the delegate to this country. The reason is very plain. The bishop himself—any bishop—may himself have cases to be adjudicated, and no member of the hierarchy could be presumed to be—as a delegate should be—absolutely above all bias of personal or local interest in the decisions which should come from the supreme court of the church. This is positive and final, no matter what reports to the contrary may come."

 NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Wall street was treated on mild sensation shortly before the close of usiness today, by the announcement of the formation of a syndicate to take any part of the proposed government loan that suight not be subscribed for at Secretary Carlisle's upset price. This change of front by the New York financiers, who yesterday were by no means ardent in their reception of the secretary's plan, is in part accounted for by the fact that sale prices; Flour-Best patent, $1.60; second patent $1.40; corn meal, $1.10. tion inimical to the financial interests of Wall street and the country at large. By the form-ing of a syndicate to take the bonds at no au-vance on the upset price, competition was lessened, and the necessity for paying a pre-mium on the upset price was removed, thus increasing the margin of profit to be gained by the syndicate. ANTWERP'S BIG FAIR.

The United States Will Play a Very Important Part.

Systematic Effort to Extend Their Neat Building.

The Antwerp international exhibition will open on May 5 of the present year. Following so closely upon the greatest of world's fairs this modest display would present few attractions to Americans but for the fact that American manufacturers expect to take a pa ticularly prominent part. Heretofore the United States has not taken a large part in foreign expositions, but profiting by the experience of the Chieago fair and stimulated by an appreciation of the possibilities to trade offered by general expositions, the manufacturers of this country have decided to be properly represented at Antwerp.

When the visitor to the exposition on the banks of the "lazy Scheldt" passes Publique next summer one of the most striking pictures to greet his eye will be the facade of the American building. It will be one of the most beautiful and pretentious pieces of architecture on the grounds. Facing the painter, was there. grand entrance from an advantageous position on the right its prominence will rival that of the Salle des Fetes and will be excelled only by the Galeries de l'Industrie, or main building. It is regarded as the most prominent site ever accorded a foreign country at an exposition.

The building will be modern renais sance in style, 240 by 150 feet. It will be constructed of steel, iron and glass, after the fashion of the exhibit buildings at the Columbian exposition, and interiorly it will be arranged to serve as an exhibition hall. There will be clubbouse features to the building, but the main feature will be its arrangement for the display of American

Around the main hall will be rooms reserved for post and telegraph offices, telephone, information bureau, money exchange, writing-rooms and newspaper filerooms for American newspapers. In addition there will also be a barber-shop, smoking-room, ambulance and drugs, check-room and toilet-rooms. These rooms will open from the exhibition hall, whose main entrance on the south will be through a grand vestibule 110 feet wide approached by a broad marble stairway. There will be a separate entrance on the east side of the building, the entire space of which will be divided into rooms for the press and a commercial room where catalogues and literature commercial room will serve as an exchange for the transaction of business by exhibitors. The main exposition court is open to the dome, but surrounded by a gallery. which lead up to the dome, there will be two American elevators, which in themselves will be novelties there. Opening on to the galfery will be exhibit rooms of the various states. The largest of these, which will be 40 by 82 feet, will be devoted to the United States government. There will be eighteen rooms on the second floor. In the center of the main hall will be an illuminated electric fountain and a soda water fountain, which is peculiarly an American institution in its modernized proportions. The building is rectangular in design, while the space allotted to the United States is irregular in shape, caused by the Rue de Retranchement, which runs obliquely through the exposition grounds. There is thus left a pentangular piece of ground on the west, adjoining the electricity building. On this will be erected a model fire station, where the system which has made the fire service in the United States unrivaled throughout the world will be demonstrated. The station will have all of the devices for fire fighting. An ambulance wagon will also be placed in the annex.

In the rear of the American building there will be a complete modern shoe factory in operation. This will be an important exhibit, as this country is recognized to be far in advance of the rest of the world in the manufacture of shoes, as was conclusively shown by the Chicago fair, if that exhibition were needed to demonstrate the fact. The American building and its annex will contain 26,500 square feet of space. In addition to this 50,000 square feet has been allotted to the American section in the industry or main building, 20,000 square feet in the electricity building and 80,000 square feet in the machinery building, thus making a grand total of 146,500 square feet of space at the Antwerp exposition to be occupied by American products. The United States commission is presided over by Thomas B. Bryan, commissioner general of the Columbian exposition, while it includes President Thomas W. Palmer, a long list of national commissioners, the chiefs of departments of the world's fair and representatives of nearly all the states.
